Happy Days Were . . .

Although some of us are leaving, memories of "happy days" will always prevail. The activities, sports, teachers, and classes are all a part of each and everyone of us. Those remaining will carry on traditions and continue the pride, making SBH what it is now.

This is the first year that any one class has been able to complete all four years at South Barber High School. South Barber has now made a name for itself and is receiving the recognition it deserves.

In the beginning, it all seemed impossible, but by consolidating the district schools, we now seem as one. Through the cooperation of the faculty and student body, we have acquired many past experiences.

"Happy Days" reflect the memories of the students at South Barber High!

CLASSES

Seniors Recall Special Times

In August, 1973, the seniors of '77 entered South Barber High as freshmen. They would become the first class to complete all four years at SBH.

Every year they had a countdown--three more years to graduation, two more years, one more year ...Suddenly there they were --seniors at last.

It was a good year. But everything began to hold a special meaning, for underlying all the happy times was the sad thought, "This is the last game, the last homecoming, the last prom, and even the last time to be an SBH student."

When the last time for everything had finally come and graduation arrived, it suddenly became a first time ...a time to begin a richer, more rewarding life.

SENIOR OFFICERS are: Robbie Reed, secretary; John Terwort, Stuco representative; Vicki Swartz, president; Mitch Hunter, vice-president; and Barbara Talley, treasurer. JILL WIEDMAN makes a hanging planter as a macrame project for Art II.

Recall . . . The Fun At Our Senior Assembly

The one big thing left for seniors before their graduation was their senior assembly. At that time they paused to remember all their former classmates and to give the prophesy of each graduating senior.

The most enjoyable part for seniors, however, was the distribution of senior wills. With the wills, seniors got to have "the last laugh" at others' expense.

The assembly then ended as the senior class sang "The Way We Were."

Seniors can remember the senior skating party with the steak supper afterward (Top) and the last minute studying (Bottom).

ROBERT HYDE (Left) depicts what he plans to be doing in the future. BRIAN MARSHALL (Below) dips into the "Will Tank" for the next will. MARCY WILLIAMS (Lower Left) wills glue to a student so she won't be so stuck on herself. MR. WILSON (Lower Right) is one of the teachers to receive a record whose title matches his personality.

Recall . . . Our Graduation Night At South Barber High

No more countdown because May 25, graduation night for the class of '77, had come at last.

After the group picture was taken, seniors nervously waited. Finally, the waiting ended and graduation began. Valedictorian and salutatorian speeches were given and the big moment arrived. Each senior received his diploma. That moment marked an important transition in his life; he was now on his own.

High school days, "happy days," had come to a close for the class of 1977.

Many Activities Keep Juniors Busy

The class of 1978 returned to South Barber and began participation in new activities. Planning began early in order to make the prom a success. In September, they conducted their money-making project; the magazine sales.

One big moment came for all juniors in early October. They received their class rings, something they had long looked forward to.

The arrival of the junior-senior banquet and prom was an exciting time and with it came the close of the year. Juniors became seniors at last, and in the countdown there was--only one more year to graduation!

Sophomores Have Class Variety

In their second year of high school, the sophomores had a variety of classes in which to enroll for the first time. The only required ones were English and biology.

The class' first fund-raising activity was selling Chieftain buttons for basketball games. Later, they held a bake sale as a second money-making project.

The most memorable event of the year was the day that the sophomores ordered their class rings. Best of all, though, was that they were halfway through in their countdown--two more years to graduation!

OFFICERS serving the sophomores are: Mark Smith, Stuco representative; Norman Becker, president; Jill Helmley, vice-president; Randy Allenbach, treasurer; and Wes Rugg, secretary. Frosh Adapt To New School

Forty-seven freshmen made up the largest SBH class of 1976-77.

Though entering a new environment was quite an experience, they came with a fresh attitude and quickly adapted to the school.

After a year of learning experiences in freshman courses, they began to feel like "old timers." And then they were one step further in the countdown--three more years to graduation!

CLASS OFFICERS for the freshmen are: Randy Conrad, treasurer; Kim Price, president; Stacie Hedges, secretary; and Stuco representative, Lisa Newton. P. E. I STUDENTS industriously labor to build a hugh pyramid only to have it collapse before freshman, Brent Diel, can climb on top. Teachers Emphasize Learning Classes, classes, classes...Sometimes we thought that 180 days could not possibly pass rapidly enough. However, we knew that our total reason for being in school was to learn, and learn we did. Some of us just a small amount; some of us a lot.

Our classes ranged from those in practical arts to areas of intellectual pursuit. The ones responsible for overseeing this learning process in the classroom were our teachers. Though each one of them had his distinct personality, all of them had one primary concern--the individual student and his improvement.

A Victory For Homecoming

The Chiefs won their homecoming game against Sedgwick in an exciting, second overtime period. But October 22 held another very special meaning to Vicki Swartz, who was chosen as the 1976 football homecoming queen.

Vicki was crowned in the pre-game ceremonies by Nick Hitchcock. The other two candidates were Jamie Feaster, escorted by John Terwort, and Robbie Reed, escorted by Brian Marshall.

A dance, sponsored by the pep club, was held in the gymnasium after the game. The band, "Mountain Fever," provided the music.

One Trackster Makes State

The track team, led by seven juniors, traveled to nine meets and competed with the best tracksters in the 1A-2A divisions in southern Kansas.

Though the team did not finish high in many of the meets, two individuals were outstanding. Mark Watts won third in the shot put in the state after placing in the top three in every track meet in the shot and the discus. Rus Molz followed Mark in most of the meets as he too scored many points for the team in the shot put and discus.

With only three participating, it was difficult for girls' track to compete well as a team. The highlight of their season came when Rita Anderson won second in the long jump at the Southwestern relays at Winfield.

GARY JACOBS (Top) earns third in the high hurdles at Sharon. KIRK SPRIGGS (Bottom) hands off to John DeLong in the medley relay.

THROWING the discus and the shot put, Mark Watts consistently scores well in every meet. He won the regionals in the shot and placed second in the discus. Competing against the best tracksters in 1A at the state meet, he finished third in the shot put and sixth in the discus.

BOYS' TRACKSTERS are: Front Row -- M. Coggins, T. Summers, J. Sternberger, S. Sterling, M. Hunter, K. Williams, G. Thurman, J. DeLong. Row Two, Standing -- Coach Stewart, M. Smith, R. Molz, S. Keast, J. Miller, M. Whitfill, M. Watts, T. Humphrey, G. Jacobs, W. Wolgamott, K. Spriggs, M. Root, K. Ptacek, K. McGinley, D. Johnson, Coach Kruse.

GIRLS' TRACK members include: Rita Anderson, Lynne Murrow, Coach Renfro, Cecilia Graves.

GREG THURMAN (Top), along with Kirk Spriggs and Willis Wolgamott, places fifth in the high jump at the Medicine Lodge all-relay track meet. LYNNE MURROW (Center) earns the lone point for the girls at the Caldwell Border Queen relays as she places sixth in the 220. RITA ANDERSON'S practice in long jumping (Far Left) pays off when she wins a second place medal in competing against 1-2-3A schools at Winfield. KEVIN WILLIAMS (Left) shows determination as he strides out in the mile run.

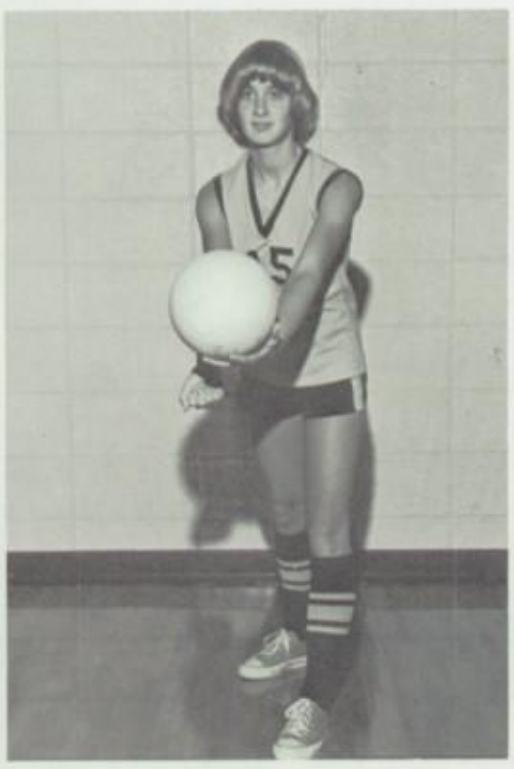
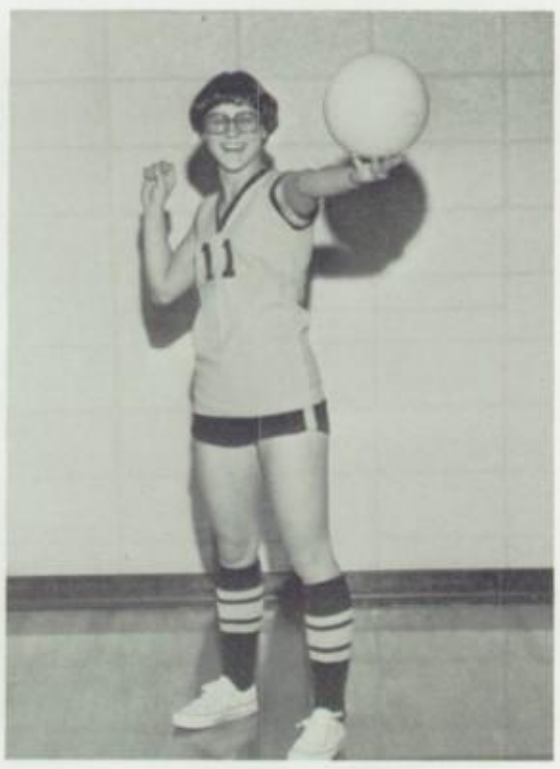
Volleyball Girls End Season With 11-11 Record

Much effort and enthusiasm was displayed on the volleyball court as the varsity girls and their coach, Richard Renfro, ended the season with a record of 11-11. The B-team's record was 6-5.

The highlight of the year was when South Barber, Garden Plain, and Sedgwick tied for first place in the South Barber Invitational. The Chieftains defeated the Garden Plain Owls and the Sharon Cardinals but were defeated by the Sedgwick Cardinals, knocking them away from the first place trophy.

In the regional tournament at Udall, South Barber girls placed fourth.





Wilma Kiser bumps the ball across to add a point to the game in which South Barber defeats Sharon.

Varsity Finishes Tough Year

Three seniors led an inexperienced Chieftain basketball team to a final record of 6-14 in 1976-77.

Up to Christmas vacation, South Barber played an even season, winning three and losing three. After returning from vacation, the Chiefs defeated Coldwater in overtime. However, South Barber did not fare so well in its next game; Andover won over South Barber in another overtime.

A six-game losing streak followed including play in a 3A basketball tournament at Valley Center. The streak was broken by defeating Andover in a consolation game in the tournament.

The season was highlighted when the Chieftains upset Maize, the second ranked team in the league, on our home court in the last game of the regular season. South Barber went on to lose to a tough Macksville team in the first round of the regionals.

THE JUNIOR VARSITY finished with a fine 12-5 record. They also received a second place trophy from the Sharon Invitational Junior Varsity Tournament. Its players include: Front Row -- R. Wright, M. Ginder, W. Rugg, M. Cook. Row Two -- Coach Stewart, D. Johnson, K. Spriggs, N. Becker, J. Coggins. TERRY COULTER (Opposite Page, Top) looks for an open shot in the homecoming game with Clearwater. SENIOR GUARD Brian Marshall leads fast break against Andover. JUNIOR Venito Ruiz drives for an open shot against Andover.

Girls Gain Experience

Despite the determination, drive, and spirit produced by the girls' varsity squad this year, they suffered through the season with a 0-15 record.

The closest game was with the Coldwater Eagles when the Chieftains were defeated 40-41. At regionals, the girls put up a hard fight against Chase, who also had a no-victory season. The Chiefs led throughout the game; unfortunately, the last couple of minutes proved to be fatal when Chase pulled ahead for the first time to win 35-41.

The biggest disadvantage the girls had was a lack of experience. There were only two seniors on the squad and one junior. The remaining nine players were either sophomores or freshmen.

The girls are looking forward to a stronger season when the underclassmen will have had more experience.

Homecoming Festivities; A Night To Remember

The night of February 11 was chosen for South Barber's basketball homecoming. After a hectic week of enthusiasm, the night finally arrived. The choice had been made during the noon hour that day, and all were excitedly awaiting the announcement of who would become queen.

After the candidates and attendants were escorted onto the court, Miss Linda Becker was announced as the queen to reign over the game with the Clearwater Indians.

Although the Chieftains lost to the Indians, the night will be remembered within the hearts of many students and alumni of the school.

Forester Wins State In Tennis

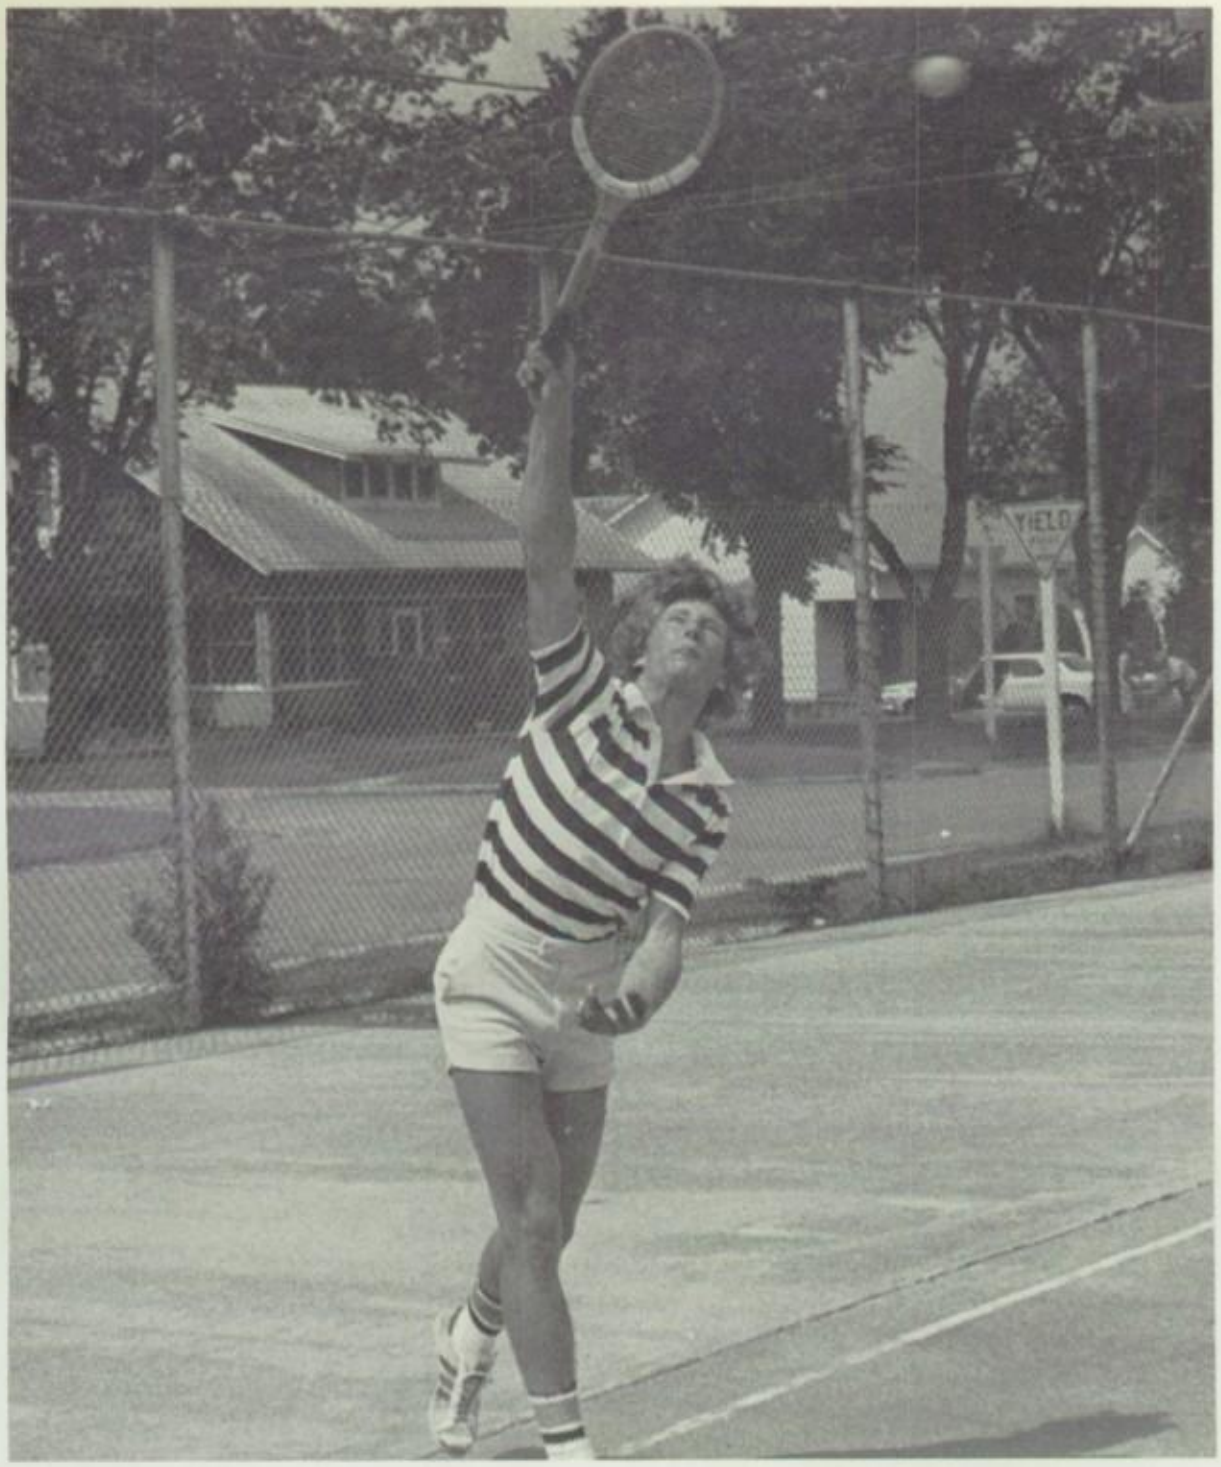
Competitive fall tennis for girls and spring tennis for boys both involved good participation by the South Barber students.

Four seniors led the girls' team in a strong season which climaxed when Linda Becker and Linda Merrihew qualified for state by winning fourth in the regionals.

Inexperience typified the boys' tennis team which included five freshmen and six sophomores. However, the young team performed well with almost every member placing at some meet. The one exception was the veteran junior player, Dan Forester, who won the state in boys' tennis for 1A-2A schools and brought home South Barber's first state championship trophy.

GIRLS' TENNIS players are: Coach Hinds, B. Conrad, L. Merrihew, J. Feaster, L. Bergren, K. Keast, K. Pollock, L. Newton, L. Becker, A. Allenbach, L. Murrow, T. DeLong, B. Roark.

BOYS' TENNIS players are: Coach Crandall, J. Black, W. Rugg, M. Cook, J. Coggins, J. Kimmell, M. Smith, J. Garman, D. Forester, L. Myers, D. Smith, M. Helmley, M. Ginder.



Dan Forester (Left) demonstrates his lethal serve which helped him tally an outstanding 32-2 match record for the season. ORGANIZATIONS

Stuco Works For School

Stuco really helped make happenings happen. As usual, they kept the pop machine filled, acted as proctors for the student lounge and sponsored elections. They also used the money earned from their basketball score-a-thon for the homecoming band and a foyer mat for the school.

In participating in the new MAL Stuco, South Barber joined with the nine other schools in sponsoring a league student exchange day.

The highlight of Stuco's year, though, was their Christmas program. Instead of the usual party, they presented "The Twelve Days of Christmas" with the Cookie Monster as the moderator.

Students Select Miss SB

Lovely Linda Kay Merrihew, singing "A Place To Hide Away" by the Carpenters, was chosen Miss South Barber in the annual contest September 24.

Linda's reign as Miss South Barber took her to two other pageants. First, she participated in the Miss Cinderella pageant October 14-16 at NWOSU at Alva. Then, she entered the Miss Southwestern Kansas pageant at Greensburg in June.

AFTER BECOMING Miss South Barber, Linda Merrihew poses with the other candidates, Marcy Williams, Jamie Feaster and Barbara Talley. STUCO members include: R. Rugg, J. Terwort, J. Patterson, L. Future Farmers of America's first major activity was the September 17 slave auction. They earned $2,000 by selling 32 members for a day's work.

In January, junior and senior members traveled to the stock show in Denver. While there, they went skiing and attended a rodeo.

For the last half of the year, they sponsored the South Barber livestock judging contest and also attended several other judging contests. Students doing well in judging events were: Shelley Wolgamott, 7th in the state in meats judging; the crops team (M. Watts, T. Holcomb, R. Onwiler and D. Forester), 3rd in the district; Dan Forester, 2nd high individual in the district and 11th in the state in crops; and Mark Watts, 12th in the state in crops.

They held their annual parent-member banquet in April. Following the meal, chapter awards were presented and new officers installed. The FFA closed out the year by hosting a calf fry in the Vo-Ag shop.

Y-Teens Host Christmas Party

The Y-Teen members plunged into an activity-filled year starting with their annual magazine sales. The girls also earned money for their club by working in the concession stand throughout the year.

Other events sponsored by the club were the heart fund drive, the kindergarten Christmas party and the mystery sister week.

Guest speakers for two Y-Teen meetings were Mrs. Lometa Rathgeber, who demonstrated flower arranging, and Mrs. Sonia Amaris, who spoke about her native country, Colombia.

The Y-Teens finished their year's activities with the Mother-Daughter banquet May 5.

IA Club Take Wichita Trips

The industrial arts club filled its year with many activities.

Money-making projects involved alternating with other organizations in working with concessions for ball games, selling candy and sponsoring a soup supper in February.

The IA members met in November for a pot luck supper. Afterward, they watched a Marx brothers' movie and, though they had just eaten, they still downed three large bags of popcorn along with 72 bottles of pop.

Two Wichita trips were also taken by the IA club. An educational trip was taken to McConnell Air Force Base and to the Wichita Job Service. The other trip, the last major event of the year, was entirely for entertainment. They played miniature golf and the pinball machines and bowled at the Fun Center, visited Towne East and went to a movie.

Spirited Pep Club Cheers The Mighty Chieftains On

Another football and basketball season arrived and you could hear the voices of forty-five pep club members cheering the Chieftains on.

Though cheering at the games was its main responsibility, the pep club had several other activities. The girls presented the annual black-white powderpuff game as a money-making project. Also, they sponsored the homecoming festivities for football.

The pep club hosted two parties. Before basketball regionals, all players and coaches were treated to refreshments and each player was given a book including his individual statistics.

The year's activities for the pep club ended with a picnic for all sportsmen, faculty and pep club members at the high school.

ACTIVITIES

Juniors, Seniors Enact "The Mouse That Roared"

The junior and senior classes presented a full-length comedy, "The Mouse That Roared," on March 10, 1977.

The setting for the comedy was Grand Fenwick, a small European country. Grand Fenwick decided to declare war on the United States, knowing that after losing to them, they would receive financial aid.

In the end, the United States had to surrender because Grand Fenwick had captured a powerful Q-bomb that, in the beginning, had been just a U.S. experiment.

Music Students Find Self-Expression In Singing

Through singing, students found new, artistic ways of expressing themselves. The vocal music department, under the direction of Larry Krehbiel, was divided into eight groups. All groups, except pops choir, participated in the league and/or state music festivals.

Band Has A Good Year

It takes time, patience, understanding and lots of hard work to be successful, but the rewards are worth the effort.

This year, band members participated in the marching band for football games, the Miss Cinderella parade at Alva and the state fair at Hutchinson. As a pep band, they performed at the ball games where they boosted the spirits of Chieftain fans.

The instrumental music department presented a fall concert and a spring concert. A great amount of time was also spent in preparation for the league and state festivals. In the end, though, they were proud of their achievements and experiences in concerts and contests.

Honors for the highest and second highest grade point average for the four high school years are earned by J. W. Patterson, salutatorian, and Vicki Swartz, valedictorian.

Sportsmen, parents and booster club members line up and fill their plates at the fall sports banquet sponsored by the booster club.

Interest Increases In Speech, Debate

Speech and debate activities surged as more students showed an interest in these areas. South Barber was able to host its first debate tournament in October with eleven schools participating.

Speech students performed well making four superior and six excellent ratings at regionals. Two students, J. W. Patterson and Lora Wetz, earned excellent ratings in the state speech festival.

Juniors Ready For Big Event

Early in the year, juniors began planning for their big event, the junior-senior banquet and prom. Committees were named, the theme selected, the band hired and major decorations made.

On Friday afternoon, though, prom planning became reality as juniors started decorating the gym deck and commons area. After working late Friday and coming back on Saturday morning to put on the final touches, they were at last ready to present "Dream Weaver" to the seniors.

Spearating and twisting crepe paper, Wilma Kiser (Above) prepares the entrance to the banquet area, while Jeff Sternberger (Top) staples the first of many silver stars to the crepe paper.

Dream Weaver Weaves Memories

As the juniors and seniors walked into the foyer, interlacing dreams appeared before them; a world of brilliant castles, fountains of clear blue water and candlelit, star-filled skies.

While the "Dream Weaver" wove fantasies and memories into the minds of those who attended the junior-senior banquet and prom on the evening of April 23, they were served salad, steak, baked potatoes, green bean casserole, hot rolls and cheese cake.

After the meal, Cheri Hadley, junior class president, welcomed everyone and Vicki Swartz, senior class president, accepted the welcome. Then Roger Noble, as guest speaker, talked about "How You Affect Others."

In dancing under stars to the music of "Stratus," and enjoying punch served by parents of juniors, everyone had a most enjoyable evening. The memorable night concluded with a free breakfast at the Ranch House.

Works Shown At Open House

After working many hours on various projects, art and industrial arts students finally had their works ready for display at the open house May 12.

Students from the industrial arts department displayed projects varying from end tables, clocks, chess tables, china cabinets and mechanical drawings to foot scrapers and a dog house.

Pottery, silver rings set with stones, macrame hanging planters, paintings and photography were some of the items displayed by Art I and II students.

Some talent and a lot of hard work are necessary ingredients for successfully completing a project and those attending the open house were impressed with the quality of the works on exhibit.

JUNIOR HIGH

Winning ballgames . . . Drying leaves in art class . . . Having boy cheerleaders for the girst girls' game . . . Typing your blood in science class . . . Chowing down at the noon hour . . . It was an exciting and fun-filled year for the South Barber junior high Tornadoes.

Some of the year's highlights were the pep club and the Stuco parties. Also, in athletic competition the Tornadoes proved their excellency in all sports--football, basketball and track.

Faculty Has Unique Talent

Classes, activities, happy times and sad times . . . Life for junior high students is different from any other time and it takes a special ability in teaching young people at this age. The 1977 Chieftain Yearbook Staff would like to thank Mr. Jack Wilson and Mr. Jerry Holt for all the hard work and cooperation they put into the photography and layouts in the '77 CHIEFTAIN. We would especially like to thank John Rathgeber for serving as the Chieftain photographer. A special ''thank you'' should go to the merchants in our area who helped finance the yearbook through their thoughtfullness and generosity in purchasing advertisements in the 1977 CHIEFTAIN
